

Physical Fitness Stressed in Y's Program

Working
At a V
Rollup

Exercise is one of the most popular items for women on the winter program at the Torrance YWCA. Interpretive dance techniques are used to teach grace of movement and for slimming and trimming the body. Working at keeping physically fit as they do a V rollup are, from left, Mmes. Janet Camilli, Wayne Haslam, William Lipkowski, and Kenneth McClister.

Bel Canto
Singing
Method

A rare opportunity to learn to sing is being offered at the YWCA where Adrian Rosati is teaching community singing in the bel canto method. Bel canto which means "beautiful song" in Italian, stresses the development of voices through correct breathing, distinct enunciation and perfect control of the vowels in bringing out resonance and volume. Here, Vicki Cederquist, assistant program director at the Y, gets instructions from Rosati while Frank Meyer plays accompaniment.

Reciprocity Planned By Local Club

Mrs. A. E. Glad, president Marina District 18, CFWC, will be among the honored guests at the Reciprocity and Federation Tea given by the Torrance Woman's Club on Wednesday, Jan. 17, at 1 p.m. at the clubhouse, 1422 Engracia.

Officers of Marina District 18 have been invited to this annual affair as well as the presidents of the 27 clubs in the district.

Mrs. D. Boone Kirks, literature chairman, has planned the program, "Don't Take Greeting Cards for Granted." Mrs. Kirks is a professional versifier for several of the top name greeting card manufacturers. Members will participate in the program by bringing cards they have received or purchased, and awards will be given for the "funniest" and the "cleverest."

Mrs. Kirks will show slides of some of her greeting cards.

"The Troubadors," a 15-member vocal group from Torrance High School, will complete the program.

Mrs. H. R. Richards is chairman of the tea which will be served at the close of the afternoon.

Family Fun Sparks YW's Winter Agenda

Torrance YWCA announces that its winter session, now open for registration, has been designed for every member of the family, for self improvement, a new hobby, or fun. Special emphasis has been placed on physical fitness the fun way.

Pre-school children's classes include tumbling, ballet, rhythm band and crafts. Designed to teach co-ordination and balance, the classes also help pre-school children prepare for a school situation.

For the elementary school student, besides the regular classes in ballet, tap dance, guitar and piano, the YWCA is featuring a session in magic for boys and girls. Mr. Scott Kinney, instructor, says that along with developing an exciting hobby, the child learns dexterity and ability to perform before an audience.

The teenagers and pre-teens are given classes in oil painting, guitar, bel canto singing, piano, charm and ballet. Special emphasis for both boys and girls is the Karate class, teaching the art of self defense. This class for teen-agers meets Tuesdays from 7 to 8 p.m.

For adults, the YWCA is featuring two new classes, one in International Travel and the other in Vocational Guidance, for women interested in going back to work. The travel class will offer help with itinerary, different means of transportation, money exchange, new places to see, health suggestions, packing tips and basic foreign languages.

The Vocational Guidance class, one night a week for eight weeks, includes testing, counseling, speakers in job opportunities, employment, interview and training opportunities.

A special feature for the young mother is the child care available at the YWCA, while she is enrolled in a daytime class.

To secure more information on time, day and fees for these activities, interested person may visit the YWCA at 2320 W. Carson or call the Y.

Land
Fantasy

While their mothers are participating in the activities at the Torrance YWCA, these youngsters are given a chance to use their creative abilities. In the craft class, children create all sorts of things from clay. Having fun are, from left, Lisa Haslam 4½, Elena Lipkowski 3, and Teri McClister 3.
